Chameleon i

Recruitment Software

Chameleon-i is an entirely web-based scalable recruitment software solution for recruitment agencies worldwide.

Chameleon-i online recruitment software delivers a fast, secure, reliable, intuitive platform suitable for agencies placing contract and permanent candidates. Our software combines constant product innovation and functionality for an affordable monthly rate. We offer the flexibility to add features and modules to benefit your agency including our integrated recruitment websites and partner services.

If you are looking for a scalable web-based recruitment software that remains adaptable to your working methods and processes with the sophisticated features found in more traditional ASP and server based recruitment software, then Chameleon-i is for you.

We offer a one month free trial of the Chameleon-i including all the features, modules and selected partners services enabled for you to try.

After the free trial we offer your agency a number of license options starting at £40 per user per month + VAT. You can opt to add our In-bound email or Exchange for £5 or £10 respectively.

Over time as your agency evolves it is simple to add and remove users, you only pay for what you use, making it scalable and efficient for your agency.

We also offer a number of additional modules and partner services to benefit your agency:

Jobs by email and Autosearch

Jobs by email is a two in one module. It is a way of automating the process of matching candidates to vacancies. This gives your agency the ability to automatically communicate with your candidates via email. Your agency uses tags to define the matching criteria options, the candidates opt into the service, stipulating their desired position, location and salary. Chameleon-i will then match the candidates to the relevant vacancies sending them an email contain vacancy details with the option to apply. Applications will be shortlisted and users notified.

Your agency can specify the frequency that Jobs by email runs this can be weekly, daily or on an ad-hoc basis and the matching criteria used.

Jobs by email, is an easy to use matching service and is the quickest easiest way to promote vacancies and keep in regular contact with your candidates. For an additional fee Jobs by Email can be integrated into a candidate registration form on your website.

Autosearch

Autosearch gives your users the ability to set up repetitive searches. Chameleon-i automatically searches your database overnight for new relevant candidates based on the criteria you have set and will populate the results in your saved search.

The result will only include new candidates, this is achieved by the user categorising historical results as relevant or not for the role and by dragging the candidates into the saved searches shortlist or ignored list.

Your future auto-searches will ignore candidates contained within the shortlist or ignored list.

Price: £50 per agency per month

To purchase this module, please visit the admin section of your Chameleon-i account press order. This will automatically activate jobs by email. If you need any further information on setting up Jobs by email, please click on the link found within our Knowledgebase.

Downloadable back-ups

The back-ups include all elements of the record card, including notes, to do's with resumes and any other saved documents you have stored within the record in a zip file. Whilst Chameleon-i will manage and safeguard your data, some clients wish to take a weekly back up of their data to store locally.

Price: £50 per agency per month

To purchase this module, please visit the admin section of your Chameleon-i account press order. This will prompt you to enter a 4 digit pin to activate the service. The backup's are generated weekly and will be available on the first Monday after purchase. To download your back-up, click the 'Admin' button and the admin tab and enter your unique pin number. If you need any further information on setting up your down-loadable backup's module, please refer to our Knowledgebase.

Idibu - coming soon

We have partnered with the job posting company Idibu. Idibu offer 360 degree job posting and application retrieval. Being integrated into Chameleon-i you can post your jobs directly from your database, they will then be parsed through Idibu to your selected job boards. Our new applicant tracking screen will deliver the all application back into your database ready for you to flag, action accordingly and contact via email. Idibu is pre integrated with Chameleon-i.

Synety - coming soon

We have partnered with a Cloud based PBX provider called as Synety.
They offer a monthly pay as you go phone system. We have integrated their Caller Line Identification (CLI) and Call Telephone Integration (CTI) into our Chameleon-i software.

The CLI integration will allow the routing of incoming phone calls, meaning that when your clients and candidates call your switchboard they will always be directed to the correct consultant and the client or candidates record will automatically pop on the screen. You can also set up hunt groups for teams within your agency, so your calls are always answered by the relevant person.

The CTI enables click to call directly from your client or candidate record, our integration will allow you to record that a telephone conversation took place, the duration and you have the option through Synety to record the call and store a link to the recording in your Chameleon-i database. This will allow an accurate log of call history which can be reported on from within the new look Chameleon-i dashboard.

The cloud based version of Synety perfectly complements Chameleon-i, you can then log in any time, anywhere to your Chameleon-i account and Synety account, giving you a full communication package on the move.
